

Small Grant to Support Green Entrepreneurship and Land Security

Background

ActionAid Liberia (AAL) is one of the leading organizations in Liberia on women's rights and gender equality. It is a country program and part of the ActionAid Global Federation, a unique partnership of people, organizations and social movements in Liberia working to achieve economic, social and climate justice, gender equality and poverty eradication. Throughout the world, ActionAid works to strengthen the capacity and active agency of people living in poverty and exclusion, especially women, to assert their rights. AAL has been operating in Liberia since 1997 addressing socio-economic and structural inequalities of power.

AAL current Country Strategy Paper (CSP III) 2024-2028, “Deepening Democracy, Rights and Justice” places emphasis on an accountable government as the primary duty bearer for building resilience of communities to adapt and mitigate the impact of climate change and disasters through climate just practices of natural resource governance, agroecology and sustainable livelihoods and increased public financing for basic socio-economic services to ensure that all Liberians can adequately access and receive quality gender responsive services and equal opportunities for a better and dignified life.

AAL is commencing the implementation in collaboration with ActionAid Nigeria and ActionAid Senegal a 3-year project titled: Strategic Partnership for Agroecology and Climate Justice in West Africa (SPAC -West Africa). Ultimately the project seeks to ensure that women and young people enjoy food and nutrition security and climate resilient livelihoods. At the intermediate level, the project seeks to ensure that (i) efficient agroecology practices among smallholder women farmers (SHWF) and young people, (ii) increased quantity and quality of public financing for agroecology and diversified livelihoods from sustainable agricultural practices.

In Liberia, the project is being implemented in four counties Bong, Gbarpolu and Montserrado and partner with key stakeholders.
